

Max Carradine
Data Structures Week 04

I recommend a normalized model with three documents.

Groups can have the same name but they will have unique IDs

I am choosing this model I believe it will scale well on the chance that AA would like to consolidate into a global DB where members can look for meetings based on group name, day, time or location more easily.

I understand denormalization may yield improved performance but if performance becomes an issue, indexing+materialized views could be deployed.